SPIKED FEED BED OPTION FOR MEREEN-JOHNSON GANG RIP SAWS

Mereen-Johnson now offers a spiked feed bed option for its gang rip saw users.

This option is designed for customers processing rough stock material as surface irregularities and lumber thickness variations can sometimes effect cut straightness and glue joint capabilities, especially on shorter length boards.

Replaceable conical shaped spikes are threaded into a special feed slot insert.

This spiked feed bed option is available on most new Mereen-Johnson Rip Saws. Existing saws in the field can be converted as the special threaded version slot insert is interchangeable with the standard feed slot design.
